NEW CALIPH DONS MANTLE
AMID HOMAGE OF MULTITUDE

Greeted by Great Outburst of Patriotic and Religious Enthusiasm; Has Power to Declare Holy War.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK HERALD.
Copyright, 1922, by THE NEW YORK HERALD.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Nov. 24.—Abdul Medjid Effendi was invested with the Mantle of the Prophet as Caliph of Islam at 11 o'clock this morning in the Tophkapou Palace at Stambul amid scenes of patriotic and religious enthusiasm such as had not been witnessed in Constantinople for centuries. A multitude, among which were at least a thousand unveiled women, lined the streets through which the new Caliph passed after his investiture from the Palace Palace to the mosque of Mohammed, approaching the Golden Horn, and thence to the famous mosque of Mohammed the Conqueror, where the sultan or Friday prayer service was held to-day.

In civilian garb, wearing a high white turban, Abdul Medjid looked his part as the Moslem high priest. All the ritual attendants of the prophet, as well as the dignitaries of the two Turkish Nations, headed by a delegation from the Angora National Assembly, rendered him homage.

No European attended this ceremony, nor did the allied authorities take any official part in the proceedings. Sultan Mohammed in the house of Osman, is Commander of all the Muslims and Defender of the Faith.

The great significance of to-day's festivities lies in the evident satisfaction with which the Turkish people have accepted the separation of the church and the State. Significant also was the bestowal upon the Caliph of the prophet's sword and the green flag, which invest him with the right to declare holy war. After a reverent and tremendous ovation accorded the new Caliph by his religious subjects, it is impossible to doubt the wisdom of the national assembly in dispensing with a Sultan holding temporal power, which has been practically illusory since Abdul Hamid's downfall. The title of the new Caliph, who is the thirty-eighth successor to Mohammed in the house of Osman, is Commander of all the Muslims and Defender of the Faith.

lyn, has recalled the Rev. Charles H.
Lytle, after a year's absence in Omaha, to again occupy the pulpit. Two innovations in the life of the church have met with an encouraging response. One is a class in applied psychology for young people, in which the principles and technique of psychological mastery and control are being coordinated with the religious and moral needs.

Dr. Lytle, who is a member of the Evan-
